Summary Statement:

The cinder block used for the expansion at the Recreation Center has turned colors from a gray block to a light brown. The rest of the building is gray and matched the expansion before the sub-contractor cleaned the cinder block. A sub-contractor for Warwick construction cleaned the block with an acid based cleaner and after the block dried the color changed. Warwick has sent the sub-contractor back out two different times to re-clean the block with a different solution to try to bring the gray color back. On Tuesday November 17, 2009 Warwick sent out the same sub to try one more time we will have the results on Monday November 23, 2009. As of right now they have not been able to get the color back. ABLC might need to come up with a value of what the aesthetics of a brown block on the expansion, and gray block on the current facilities would be, repair or replacement. Brent Bowles from IAD will be on hand to answer any questions.
