

Economic Development

April 2009

The construction guidelines are finally complete. They are scheduled to be delivered here on Tuesday and hopefully I will be able to distribute them at the Council meeting. They look really good and I believe has great information for both current and new developers and even citizens looking for information on how to upgrade their facilities. Bridgett Norris of Alpha Creative Services did a great job with the information we gave her and was able to come up with a finished product that we will use for some time.

Once the cards arrive, I will schedule times to meet with the local realty groups to go over the cards. I hope this will be a resource not only for the builders/developers but also for the real estate people to be able to help buyers along in the process.

We have awarded our second HOT funds request to the Brazoria County Historical Museum for a Zydeco Concert on the Courthouse lawn, schedule for Jun 13. Their request included some minor updates to the sound system and advertising for the event. As the event gets closer, I will remind you so that hopefully you can attend the event.

As always, if you have any questions, let me know.
