-  Signs Permitted in Area During Voting Periods
-  Signs Never Permitted in Area

The Hays CISD Academic Support Center (ASC) is periodically used as an election polling location. During the dates the facility is in use as a polling location, election signs are permitted in certain areas in accordance with the information online at: <https://www.hayscisd.net/electionsigns>.

Using its time, place, and manner authority in election law and school board policy BBBA (Legal), the district has designated permissible areas (noted on this map in green) where signs may be placed at the ASC, provided the locations also meet distance marker rules and all other directives enforced by the polling location election judge.

Signs are prohibited in areas noted on this map in red. The district believes election signs placed these areas would pose a damage risk to critical, buried cables and underground infrastructure and could present a traffic danger by blocking the view of drivers in the parking lot. Election signs placed in red areas will be removed and will likely not be available for return to candidates.
