FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

(MONTGOMERY, Ohio) – Connect Montgomery is Growing.

Great things are happening in Montgomery. The Blue Ash Montgomery Rotary Club and Kindervelt #22 have joined the growing list of 11 organizations gathering together on www.ConnectMontgomery.org to promote their events and give citizens of Montgomery one convenient website to locate activities, or ways to get involved, in their community. The growing list includes parent groups, faith-based organizations, neighborhood and business associations and the City of Montgomery.

The site offers a brief description of each group and the Calendar of Events on www.ConnectMontgomery.org compiles sponsored activities posted by member organizations. Visitors can find information directing them to a fundraising event or special promotion. Visitors can also find information on volunteer activities with local civic organizations such as the Montgomery Woman’s Club or the Rotary Club. Several local organizations, including Blue Ash Montgomery Symphony Orchestra, utilize the site to promote upcoming concerts and performances. This “one stop shop” can help plan your weekend or inspire your creative or charitable endeavors.

“This collaboration of civic-minded organizations has come together to share information and empower their members to engage in their community. We encourage interested civic, faith-based, athletic associations and other organizations that value the Montgomery community to join our growing ranks,” said Susan Pace of the Blue Ash Montgomery Symphony Orchestra.

By registering for a monthly newsletter, you can have the news and event information sent directly to your phone or email. Check out the website today and get connected with all the great things going on in the City of Montgomery!
