

Tweens & Teens

Tweens and teens are a hard demographic to engage in City recreation. Where do these age groups gather for recreation? What should the City add to its recreation programming to attract tweens and teens? What role could a youth council play in engaging teens in the community?

Public comments as of October 27, 2011, 1:59 AM

All Participants around Montgomery

As with any public comment process, participation in Open City Hall is voluntary. The statements in this record are not necessarily representative of the whole population, nor do they reflect the opinions of any government agency or elected officials.

Tweens & Teens

Tweens and teens are a hard demographic to engage in City recreation. Where do these age groups gather for recreation? What should the City add to its recreation programming to attract tweens and teens? What role could a youth council play in engaging teens in the community?

As of October 27, 2011, 1:59 AM, this forum had:

Attendees:	52
Participants around Montgomery:	7
Minutes of Public Comment:	21

Tweens & Teens

Tweens and teens are a hard demographic to engage in City recreation. Where do these age groups gather for recreation? What should the City add to its recreation programming to attract tweens and teens? What role could a youth council play in engaging teens in the community?

All Participants around Montgomery

Name not shown inside Montgomery

October 20, 2011, 9:22 PM

I would really enjoy seeing a Rec Center for Montgomery. An indoor pool, cafe, workout room, game room, etc. This would be great for families as well as any age group.

Name not shown outside Montgomery

September 21, 2011, 9:49 AM

Montgomery desperately needs a small community center which could house activities for tweens and teens, as well as adults. Although I live in Montgomery, my teenagers spent tons of time at the Blue Ash Rec Center with friends engaging in many healthy sports activities. Having a rec center would be attractive to home buyers who are looking for these amenities. Why not buy the existing workout facility on Montgomery road that has been for sale for years and convert it to a recreation center? NS, Tanagerhills Dr.

Marie F. inside Montgomery

September 14, 2011, 6:36 PM

1) make some additions to swaim park, its a great place to hang out, but there isn't much to do if you're a teen. Kids have a playground, adults have tennis, but there's nothin for teens.

2) Make a teen club with special events on nights where people will be available. For exapmle, on Friday's most people are at the Football games in fall, so the large events would be on a saturday or sunday.

Missy Reardon outside Montgomery

September 13, 2011, 4:00 AM

An easy way to reach the tweens/teens is though school. Montgomery could really help the schools by allowing electronic signs in front of schools to relay information regarding events. This information and these events would help engage tweens/teens. The city of Montgomery is being ridiculous on this matter in the community and holding it back. These signs can be done tastefully. Please reconsider the ban on signs made past the 18th century.

Name not shown inside Montgomery

September 12, 2011, 6:53 PM

Wyoming has a wonderful skateboard park and it is a very popular place for skaters and friends watching. While Wyoming has this facility, it is not convenient for our kids in Montgomery unless parents or older siblings drive them. Some people may believe that a skate park may attract the wrong kind of kids, but I have never observed any problems while watching my kids at the skateboard park in Wyoming. Please consider this.

Name not shown inside Montgomery

September 11, 2011, 8:04 PM

Replace Starbucks with a teen club... or something similar.

I mean, I guess it doesn't HAVE to be a teen club, it could be just another cafe or a general hangout. I mean, loitering is great and all, but having a place to actually hang out is even better.

Name not shown inside Montgomery

September 11, 2011, 7:46 PM

My opinion? More cafes and clubs for teens. As a 13 year old, i know that we need a place to hang

Tweens & Teens

Tweens and teens are a hard demographic to engage in City recreation. Where do these age groups gather for recreation? What should the City add to its recreation programming to attract tweens and teens? What role could a youth council play in engaging teens in the community?

All Participants around Montgomery

out, and downtown Montgomery is the closest place to do that. When Starbucks closed, it took away one of the only places to go with your friends. Kings Island is a good spot, but it takes the money out of Montgomery, and it is too far away and costs too much. This is why we need a cheap place to go with our friends and stay for a while.
