

COUNCIL MONTHLY REPORT

DEPARTMENT: BUILDING DEPARTMENT

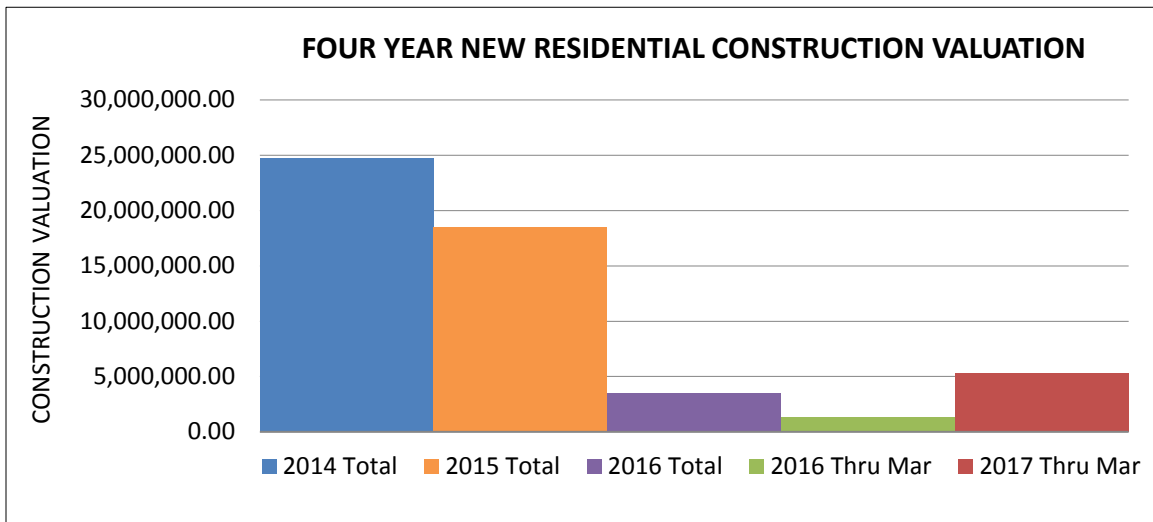

MONTH: MARCH 2017

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

During March 2017 the City issued one new permit for new residential homes compared to one during March 2016 and four during March 2015. New residential houses are up 73% YTD compared to 2016. The chart below compares residential permits issued from January 2014 to current year.

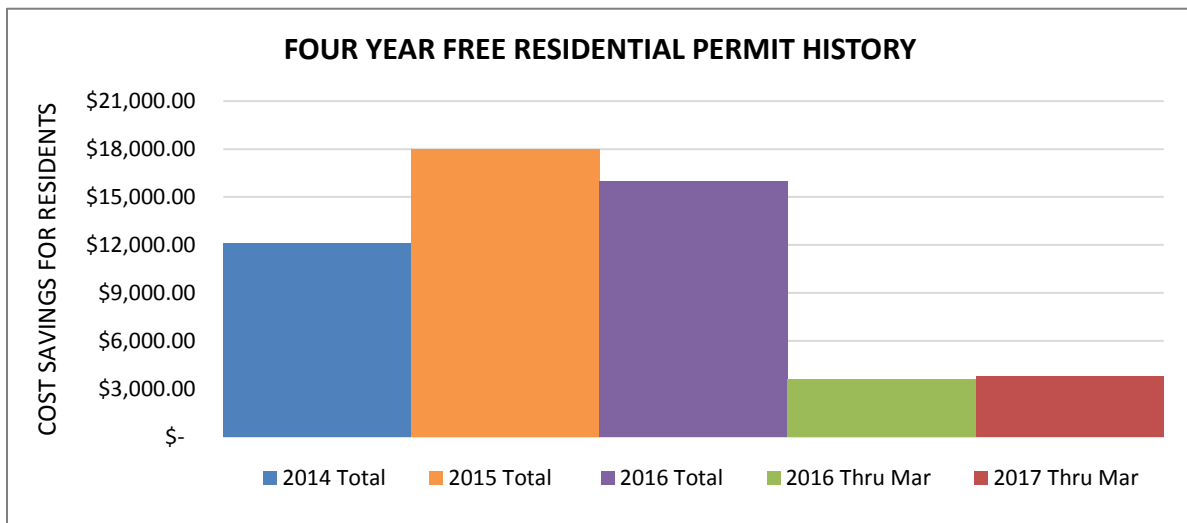

The residential construction value is based on the contractors' declared construction cost. During March 2017 the residential contractors' valuation is $202,450.00 compared to $247,095.00 during March 2016 and $1,693,540.00 during March 2015. The chart compares new residential construction valuation data from January 2014 to current year.

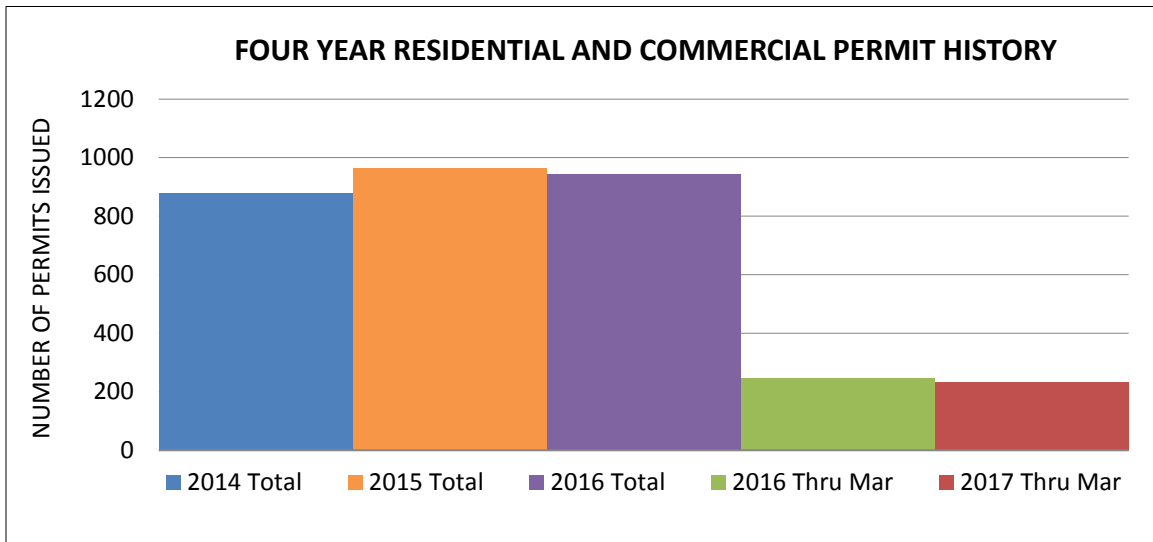

The table below shows the residential development and each subdivisions overall completion rate. Shenandoah has a total of 1,181 lots in the residential subdivisions and is currently at 84% built out. Vacant lots also include lots which residents have fenced in as part of their yard but a house could be built on those lots in the future.

In January 2013 the City implemented free permits for residential remodels under $50,000.00. This also includes roofs, irrigation, and pools. In March 2017 the City issued nine free permits for residential improvements. The total savings to residents from January 2013 to current is $60,200.00.

During March 2017 the City issued 67 residential and commercial permits as compared to 76 during March 2016 and 96 during March 2015. The chart below compares all residential and commercial permits issued from January 2014 to current year.

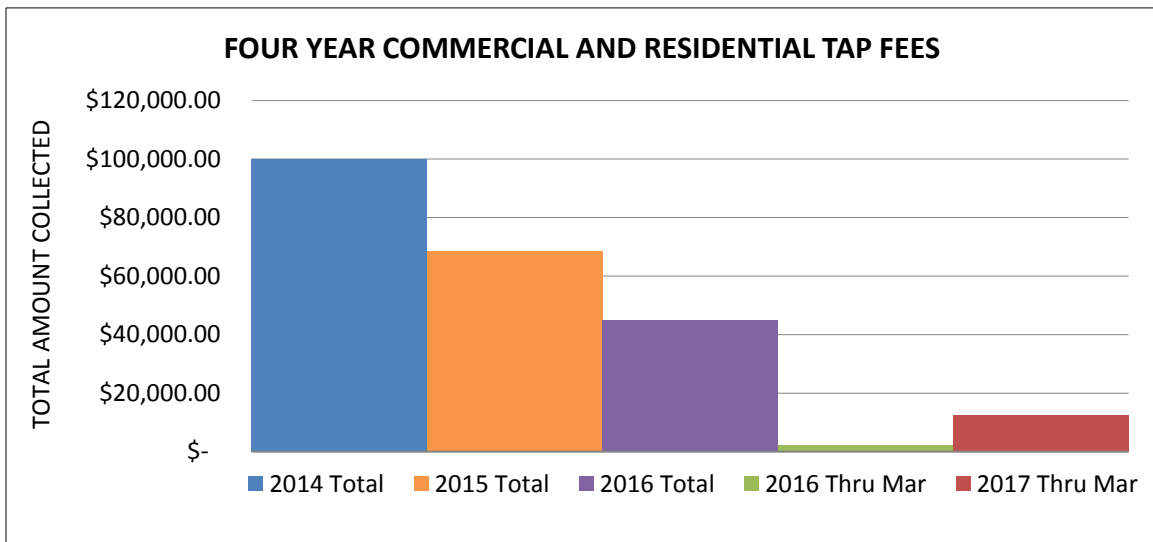

In May 2014 the City implemented a digital plan review process to provide better service for the contractors. Prior to this implementation contractors were required to bring in four paper sets of plans which cost a tremendous amount of money to print. Staff came up with the concept to start accepting plans digital and charge a nominal fee depending on the number of pages submitted for review. During March 2017 the City collected $800.00 for digital plan review fees compared to $355.00 during March 2016 and $370.00 during March 2015. Since its inception in May of 2014 the City has collected $19,028.84. The chart below outlines the fees collected for the digital plan review from May 2014 to current year.

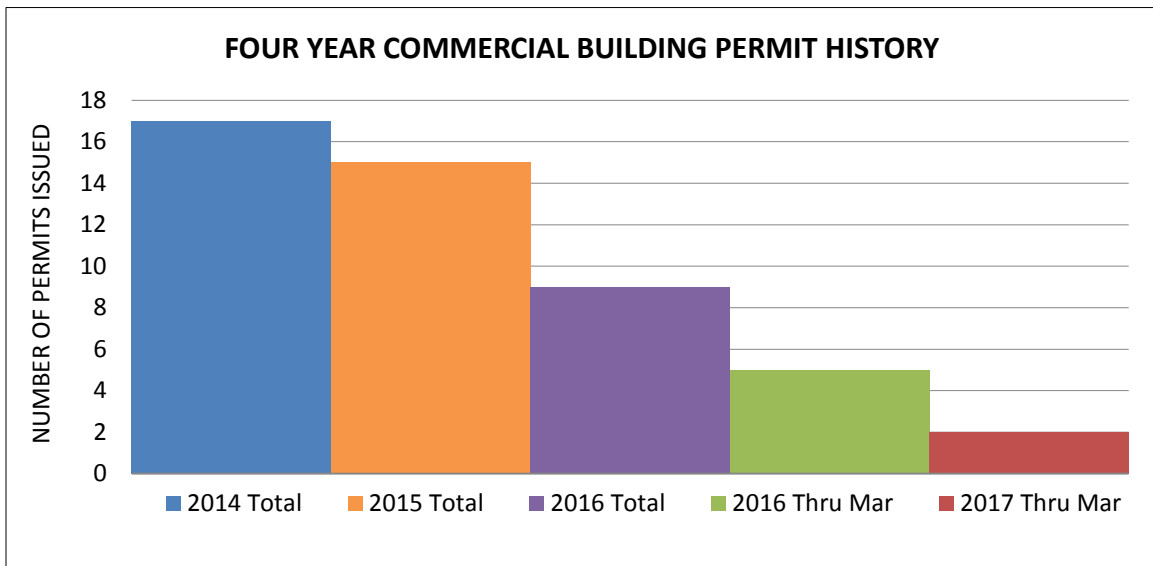

The digital plan review fee is used to purchase equipment and enhance the digital plan review process to provide better, faster customer service. In March 2017 the City had no purchases from the digital plan review account. The digital plan review fee balance is $5,348.18. The chart below outlines the digital plan review revenue and the expenses.
