Winter Forecast

Salt Update

Similar to last year's long and difficult winter, this upcoming winter season has already proven to be challenging. The salt shortages impacting the Chicagoland area last year continue as domestic salt mine production is unable to keep up with demand in restocking depleted supplies. Vendors are warning of salt shortages and there have been dramatic price increases impacting municipalities and private companies. Skokie, like most communities, participates in the State of Illinois

Joint Purchase program for salt and, unfortunately, the cost for salt under this program has more than doubled.

The Village has secured a sufficient supply of rock salt for the winter season. In order to make sure that this supply covers the Village's needs for the winter season, the Village will focus on conservation of salt. This will include reducing the amount of material spread on streets throughout the Village to the minimum needed to protect the safety of the motoring public and possibly mixing salt with sand to help stretch the material and to provide tire traction.

The Village remains committed to providing safe roadways for Skokie residents and visitors. One positive benefit of less salt being used throughout the Chicagoland area is the beneficial environmental impact. Less salt reduces the amount of damage to trees, grass and shrubs adjacent to the roads and reduces the chloride content of run-off that goes into lakes and streams.

The Village asks that residents please take extra caution and be aware of the conditions on the roadways throughout the Northern Illinois region this winter season. Be sure to tune into local weather forecasts, allow extra time for traveling, increase the intervals between your vehicle and the vehicle in front of you and, most importantly, reduce your speed.

Alternate Side Parking Reminder

After a snowfall of two inches or more, the Village places an alternate side parking program in effect from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. The program stays in effect for at least two days. On even-numbered days, cars must be parked on the even-numbered side of the street. On odd-numbered days, cars must be parked on the odd-numbered side of the street.

Residents are informed that the program is in effect by an "alert" warning siren that sounds at 7 a.m. The siren sounds again at 6 p.m., after which residents may move their vehicles to the opposite side of the street.

To confirm that the Alternate Side Parking program is in effect please call the Village's snow hotline at 847/675-SNOW(7669) or tune to 1660 AM Skokie, the Village's municipal advisory radio station. Turn to page two for more information.

Digital Transition

On February 19, 2009, all analog broadcast television in the United States will end as the nation's full power television stations complete their transition to an all-digital system. This change will mark the end of the traditional analog method of broadcasting over-the-air television.

This does not mean the end of free broadcast television, and your favorite broadcast programs and local television stations will still be available.

How can you tell if you will be affected by the transition? If you don't currently subscribe to cable or satellite AND your television set was purchased prior to 2008, you will be affected. This means you currently receive analog television over the air or via an antenna, and your TV set is not able to handle digital transmission. To be able to continue to watch over-the-air, broadcast TV, you will need a converter box available at many electronics stores, for which the federal government can provide a $40 coupon. You must apply for the coupon directly with the National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) through the website at www.dtv2009.gov, or by requesting an application via phone at 1-888-DTV-2009.

If you have any questions about the digital transition please call the Public Information Division at 847/933-8257.

Emergency Preparedness in Skokie

Tip of the Month: Preparing Your Animals for an Emergency

As you prepare your family for an emergency, you also should prepare your animal for an emergency. The Skokie Health Department - Environmental Health Division offers the following information on ways you can prepare your animals for an emergency.

Preparing an Emergency Supplies Kit for Your Pet

Preparing an emergency supplies kit for your pet is just as important as preparing an emergency supply kit for your family (learn more about this at www.skokie.org.) Here's a basic list for your first-aid kit:

- Tweezers
- Cotton batting, gauze bandages and pads
- Adhesive tape
- First-aid cream - a triple-antibiotic
- Antiseptic spray
- Hydrogen peroxide
- Rectal thermometer
- Scissors
- Food, can opener, water, bowls, litter pan and litter.
- Pet carrier or portable crate. (A collapsible metal show crate will accommodate more than one cat.)
- Medical records, pertinent information about your pet and phone number of your veterinarian.

(Most kennels require proof of current rabies and distemper vaccinations before accepting a pet.)

- Comfortable bedding for the crate. A blanket can be used for the dual purpose of bedding and wrapping an injured animal in to prevent shock.
- Nail clippers, comb and/or brush.
- Recent photos of your pet. Hopefully you won't need them, but if your pet is lost in the confusion, you'll want to place posters around the area without delay.

To learn about Emergency Supplies Kits you can create for your family, visit the Village's Emergency Preparedness webpage at www.skokie.org.

What to do in an Emergency Situation

If you must evacuate your home, it's always best to take your pets with you. For health and space reasons, pets may not be allowed in public emergency shelters. (Trained guide dogs for the blind, hearing impaired or handicapped will be allowed to stay in emergency shelters with their owners.) If, as a last resort, you have to leave your pets behind, make sure you develop a plan for your pets before there is a need to use it. Learn more on what to do in this situation by visiting the Emergency Preparedness website at www.skokie.org.

Personnel from the Village of Skokie will handle the initial response to any disaster or unusual occurrences within the geographical limits of Village of Skokie. If necessary, the Village of Skokie will establish shelters for mass care and animal care. Officials will assist in finding temporary housing and supplies for displaced animals. Animal Shelter facilities will be opened as close as possible to the affected area, but safely away from hazards that may exist from the disaster. In the event that the disaster affects multiple jurisdictions, a regional center will be activated.

If the size and type of disaster warrants it, the Red Cross may take over in establishing these shelters. The Red Cross will not accept pets at their emergency shelters, so make a list of "pet-friendly" motels in case you need to temporarily relocate with your pets.

As an alternative, ask your veterinarian or your local animal shelter if they provide emergency care for pets following disasters. Obtain the numbers to several veterinarians outside your immediate area in the event your own veterinarian's office has to close because of the emergency. If your pet is on medication or a special diet, find out from your veterinarian what you should do in case you have to leave it alone for several days. Contact a friendly neighbor and make a reciprocal agreement to take charge of each others pets in the event of an emergency when one of you is not home. Exchange cell phone numbers if you both have them. Make a list of all the above phone numbers for you to include in your pet's emergency supplies kit.

If you would like more information on preparing your animal during an emergency, please visit the Village's Emergency Preparedness webpage at www.skokie.org or call the Skokie Health Department – Environmental Health Division at 847/933-8484. ∞

Computer and Electronics Recycling

Why recycle electronics? According to the Solid Waste Agency of Northern Cook County (SWANCC), as consumer electronics technology rapidly improves and prices get lower, it is estimated that billions of consumer electronics will be scrapped during the rest of this decade. Through reuse and recycling programs, such as those offered by SWANCC, these materials can be refurbished for reuse or demanufactured for recycling. By not putting your electronics in the trash, natural resources and energy are conserved, valuable and potentially harmful materials are recovered and landfill space is saved.

Skokie residents have many options to recycle computer and electronics items through the following programs:

- SWANCC At Home Computer Pick-up. This program begins spring 2009 and offers convenient pick-up of computer and electronic equipment at your home for a nominal fee. Visit www.swancc.org for program information.

- Permanent Drop-Off Options. There are dozens of permanent drop-off locations throughout the Chicagoland area, including Abt Electronics, Circuit City, Office Depot, Office Max and Staples. A fee may be involved. For more information visit www.swancc.org.
- Donation options. There are many organizations that accept used personal computer equipment. The SWANCC website gives contact information for these organizations. Learn more at www.swancc.org.

- Mail-in Options. Dell, Hewlett-Packard and United Recycling each offer computer mail-in recycling programs. Visit each of these companies websites for details.

To learn more about SWANCC recycling programs and events by email, join the SWANCC Elist at www.swancc.org. ∞

TeenLink Program: Uniting Residents & Seniors with Local Teens

The Village's TeenLink program provides residents with names of teens willing to do various tasks, such as yard mowing, pulling weeds, raking leaves and snow shoveling. Teenagers are needed year-round, but especially during heavy snowfalls.

Skokie residents often request assistance for snow shoveling during harsh winters and for lawn care in the summer. When a teen provides their contact information to the TeenLink list, Skokie residents can be provided with a complete list of available teens in their area. The resident is responsible for contacting the TeenLink teenager and for making financial/scheduling arrangements. The TeenLink teenager is responsible for completing the task or notifying the resident if they are unable to complete the work.

The Village TeenLink program has been connecting residents with Skokie teenagers for over 20 years. Many communities have implemented similar programs with limited success. The success of the Skokie TeenLink program is a testament to our community's spirit. Help out your community - become a member of TeenLink today!

Winter Health Tips

Colds

More than 100 viruses can cause colds, the world's most common illness, so few people escape being exposed to at least one of them. In the United States, most people average about three colds every year. Once a cold enters the body through the nose or throat, the cold virus begins to multiply causing any of a number of symptoms: sore throat, sneezing, runny nose, watery eyes, aches and pains, mild fever, nasal congestion and coughing. A cold usually lasts a week or two.

The best way to treat a cold is to take a mild pain reliever, avoid unnecessary activity, get as much bed rest as possible and drink plenty of fluids, especially fruit juices.

While there is no vaccine to protect you from catching a cold, there are ways to lessen your chances of coming down with the illness. Keep up your natural resistance through good nutrition and getting enough sleep and exercise. Turn your thermostat down and keep the humidity up in your home. Dry air dries out the mucous membranes in your nose and throat and causes them to crack, creating a place where cold viruses can enter your body. Avoid direct contact with those who have colds and wash your hands frequently.

Influenza

Influenza, or the flu, is not a serious health threat for most people, but for the elderly or those who have a chronic health problem, influenza can result in serious complications, such as pneumonia. Symptoms of the flu usually develop suddenly, about three days after being exposed to the virus and may include fever, chills, cough, sore throat, runny nose and soreness and aching in the back, arms and legs. Although these are similar to symptoms caused by cold viruses, flu symptoms tend to be more severe and to last longer.

The flu is highly contagious and if it occurs in your family, there is no practical way to avoid exposure to the virus. Bed rest, a mild pain reliever and lots of fluids are the best treatment. Unless advised by a physician, a child or teenager with a flu-like illness should not take aspirin. Its use in the presence of a flu infection is linked with an increased risk of Reye syndrome. Instead use another mild pain reliever that does not contain aspirin. Antibiotics are not effective against flu viruses.

Flu vaccines, while not always effective in preventing the illness, do reduce the severity of the symptoms and protect against complications that could develop. The shots are strongly recommended for persons 65 years of age and older and those who suffer from such chronic health problems as heart disease, respiratory problems, renal disease, diabetes, anemia or any disease that weakens the body's immune system. Infants, children and young people up to 18 years of age who are receiving long-term treatment with aspirin should also get a flu shot.

If you have any questions or would like more information on these and more winter health tips, contact the Skokie Health Department at 847/933-8252.

Take Care of Your Heart

Heart disease is one of the leading causes of death for Skokie residents. There are many things a person can do to reduce the risk of heart disease. These include keeping your blood pressure in the normal range, having an acceptable cholesterol level, maintaining a good level of physical fitness, and eating right. The Skokie Health Department offers screenings and clinics to help you monitor all of these.

February is National Heart Month. In recognition of this event, the Health Department will offer Cholesterol Screening, Lipid Profile and Body Composition Analysis for $2 off the regular prices. In addition, Blood Pressure Screening and the Nutrition Clinic/Lecture are offered to Skokie residents at no charge. To learn more about Health Department clinics and screenings, please see page 10.

If you would like more information or to make an appointment, contact the Skokie Health Department at 847/933-8252.

Stop Smoking Clinic

The Skokie Health Department, in conjunction with the Evanston Health Department, is offering a stop smoking clinic. It is free of charge for anyone who lives or works in either of the two communities.

The clinic begins on Monday, January 19 at 7 p.m., and also will meet on January 20, 21, 22, 27 and February 3. This clinic will be held at the Skokie Village Hall, 5127 Oakton Street.

Mr. Jerry Zabin will conduct the clinic. Mr. Zabin has many years of experience in the development and implementation of smoking cessation and prevention programs. He has a unique style that is very popular with his clinic participants.

Advance registration is required for the stop smoking clinics. For more information or to register for the clinic, contact the Skokie Health Department at 847/933-8252.
